PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE
THE SEVENTH SUNDAY AFTER THE EPIPHANY

Year C

Lord, you are our delight and our joy, we seek to reflect your grace and goodness: make us slow to anger and not too ready to condemn. We pray that your church may be open and welcoming to all in need. We remember today churches that are divided by factions or through animosity. We pray for churches that are working to heal divisions and hurts. God of love and hope, give us your peace.

God of peace, we pray for peace givers and peace makers. We pray for all who are seeking to bring reconciliation and hope to communities and peoples. We remember today the work of Amnesty International, the United Nations and the peace-keeping forces of the world. We pray for peoples involved in conflict, strife or aggression. God of love and hope, give us your peace.

We remember all who have hardened themselves, or become insensitive, all who afraid of being moved or touched, all afraid of close contact, all who are suffering from a breakdown in relationships. We give thanks for our homes and our loved ones and pray for their peace, that we may have peace in our communities and in our lives. God of love and hope, give us your peace.

We remember with love all who are struggling at this time, all who realize that they are perishable beings though illness or disability: may they be strong in the spirit and strong in the Lord. We pray for all whose lives are disturbed or distressed. We pray especially for those who are ill or in need [N.]. God of love and hope, give us your peace.

We rejoice that in our God we are more than conquerors. In your power, O Lord, we will overcome all evil, we will triumph over death and rejoice in life eternal. We pray for loved ones departed, that they may rest in peace and rise in glory. God of love and hope, give us your peace.

ALL: God of grace and glory, give us the gift of generosity, that we may reveal your love and forgiveness, and live in fellowship and peace with each other as we work for the coming of your kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

THE PEACE

Celebrant: Fix your hearts upon God where true joys are to be found, The peace of the Lord be always with you

People: and also with you.
