PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE
TWENTY-FIRST SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

Year A - PROPER 25

We pray for all who have shared their lives and their faith with us. We pray for all who teach the faith, Justin, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Michael, our Presiding Bishop and Primate, Lawrence, GERALYN and Daniel our own Bishops, for preachers, and evangelists, for theological colleges, for Religious Education teachers, for Sunday school teachers. We remember all who have been led astray by false teachers and vain promises. Lord of grace and glory; lead us from despair to hope.

We pray for all who are working for peace in the world, for all who stand up for the exploited or the underdog, for those with vision who seek to care for and conserve our planet. We pray for ecologists, for all who work on the land, for all research workers and scientists. We pray for all who have been cheated out of their land by economic powers. Lord of grace and glory; lead us from despair to hope.

We give thanks for all who share their lives with us and are dear to us. We pray for a spirit of good neighborliness in our communities; may no one be neglected or forgotten. We pray for the building up of community life, for community centers and places where locals can meet. Lord of grace and glory; lead us from despair to hope.

We remember before you all who are lonely, all who have been deserted by loved ones, and those who have recently lost a loved one. We pray for all who have difficulty in making relationships, for all those in difficult relationships and where there is a breakdown in understanding or care. We pray for all who are separated from loved ones through sickness, all who are in hospital or in care especially [N.]. Lord of grace and glory; lead us from despair to hope.

We give thanks for all who have sought to love you with all their heart, with all their soul and with all their mind. We remember all who have served you by serving others. We give thanks for all who in the past have enriched our lives and our neighborhood by their goodness. We pray that we may have a share with them in your kingdom in glory. Lord of grace and glory; lead us from despair to hope.

ALL: Father, we give you thanks and praise for all who have had the courage to speak out boldly for the gospel, for all the saints and martyrs of the past, for holy men and women who now stand for justice and freedom. May we join them in serving you; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE PEACE

Celebrant: Delight in the Lord in his love and light
